FASHION NOTES

Natural ermine is a very smart fur for banding coats and gowns. It is particularly effective on light materials.

The square-crowned hat is very popular now, but it must be worn with discretion for it is not flattering and it has a tendency to make plain features seem plainer.

Fur cuffs on the new winter coats sometimes begin above the elbow and give almost the effect of a fur sleeve. There is another type of sleeve that is absolutely unfurred and should be accompanied by one of the new muffs.

Scotch plaid lining which is both warm and stunning is seen in all types of winter coats. Even those of black silk and satin feature it.

SCARF NOT SEPARATE

Scarves on the newest Paris creations, are no longer separate from the costume, but are a part of it and offer form the collar line.

SMART NOVELTY

The Carmen sash which is worn very low over the hips and tied directly in front of a novelty worthy of the attention of thin and medium-sized women.

COLORED LININGS

Linings of quilted taffeta in very lovely colors are seen in some of the new winter coats where expense is no object.

ENVELOPE BAG

The envelope bag continues in favor and is occasionally trimmed with a strap or binding of another color, for variety's sake.

QUITE POPULAR

The tiered effect is quite as popular in coats as in gowns. It breaks the line straight line, but does so without detracting from the slender, untrammelled effect.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any drugstore can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good and the spirit of its low cost it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that most business medicines cannot. It soothes the throat, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotion Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH BURKE

Well, it's all over, dear Ruth. With all the barbarous ceremony with which we surround our dead when we put them away from our sight forever, dear old dad, who loved and lived life so fully, has been laid to rest.

The pussy-footed men from the undertaker's shop, with their maddening airs of sympathy; the over-powerful scent of tuberoses and lilies of the valley; the stifling pall of crepe veils; the harrowing notes of music, and the long sermon wherein the minister drew a moral for the unregenerate effort the blameless life of my father, have gone into oblivion.

Poor, dear mother! Never before did I realize how terrible are our funeral ceremonies. I sat beside her with her trembling hand in mine, and felt her shrink and shudder when the hymn began. I heard her suppressed sobs as the minister referred to her as 'the widowed and forlorn.'

It seemed to me that all this was like sticking a knife into a gaping wound and turning it around.

Then the great line of motors filled with business friends and acquaintances of my father, the marching men of the different societies of which he was a member, and the automobiles filled with flowers. Perhaps all this was necessary. Perhaps all this was paying respect to my father's good deeds, but to me it was ostentatious and unnecessary.

As we left the house, mother whispered to me, 'Have all the flowers possible sent to the hospital, dear, so at least some poor, tortured living being will be gladdened by the sight and odor of blossoms that were given to honor lifeless clay.'

As we entered the cemetery, we met another procession heavily laden with playing a funeral dirge. Following were vehicles with flowers, then innumerable motors filled with men, women and children. All these were poorly dressed, and John remarked, 'What a pathetic thing! Some poor woman is giving all the "insurance money" to pay proper respect to her man.'

Mother looked up with the first gleam of interest she had shown in anything outside of her grief and her own family since dad's death. She glanced toward the cheaper part of the cemetery, where about an open grave stood a group of people, evidently foreigners, while the band still played dolefully.

Then her own grief overpowered her and Karl had to hastily carry her to the place reserved for the last rite of all.

When it was all over and we returned to the house from which all signs of death and dissolution had already been banished, mother went immediately to her room. I knew she wanted to be alone.

John began to plan about getting back to his business, and how quickly he could move to take charge of father's. Just then mother came in and said: 'Leslie, I've been thinking of that other poor woman we saw at the cemetery today, and I want someone to go immediately and find out if it is true that she had paid out all her little hoard to give her husband a grand funeral. If that is so, have someone pay all those expenses for her. I cannot bear to have her suffer more than is necessary.'

I took my dear mother in my arms and kissed her. She may not be scientifically philanthropic, Ruth, but she's a regular human being (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

FENG AND WU FORCES GETTING READY TO FIGHT

Langfang Section Active and Battle Is Imminent

(By The Associated Press) PEKING, Oct. 28.—The advance troops of Wu Pei-fu, former commander in chief of the central government army, have arrived at Langfang, half way between Tientsin and Peking, whither the troops of Feng Yu-hsiang, his former lieutenant, now in control of Peking, are moving. As a result fighting is imminent there.

Rumors that the two forces have clashed are groundless as passengers on the international train which arrived here last evening from Tientsin passing the lines and saw the soldiers digging entrenchments. They were only a few miles apart.

The strength of Wu's army is unknown here. The morale of his men also is a matter of doubt. His detractors declare they entirely lack morale, the bulk of the army still at a disorganized retreat.

Most of Feng's troops were moved out of Peking toward Tientsin during the week-end.

There is no change in the political status. It is reported that President Tsao Kung-shan is to return and would if Feng permitted.

The resignations of the members of the cabinet are reported to have been accepted and an effort is being made to reorganize it under the premiership of C. T. Wang, but the mandates have not been promulgated.

Army Shells Go Off In Big Fire

(By The Associated Press) DOVER, N. J., Oct. 27.—Explosion of discarded army shells tonight added to the danger faced by fire fighters who for two days have been battling a forest fire near the Picatinny governmental arsenal reservation.

Although a shift of wind this morning reduced the possibility of serious damage at the arsenal itself, where quantities of army munitions are stored, the battle continued throughout the day until interrupted.

The arsenal buildings are on a reservation covering about one thousand acres, and on the extreme end aged shells were thrown some time ago. It was said when the flames reached the dump tonight there was a series of explosions.

Late tonight the fire was believed under control.

DOCTORS BAFFLED OVER "LOONEY GAS" POISONINGS

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A third victim of gas poisoning in the research laboratory of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, died here in a hospital. He was William C. McSweeney, of Elizabeth, N. J.

Two other men are in the hospital in a serious condition with an undetermined number of additional employees in less serious condition. Before his death McSweeney became so violent that he was placed in a straight jacket. Some of the other victims also were affected in the same way. One of the men who died earlier, Walter Dymock, of Elizabeth, jumped from a second story window of his home while in pain from the gas. He later died in a hospital.

With two men dead, three others in a serious condition and an undetermined number of other employees of the Bayway, N. J. plant of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey in a hospital as the result of poisoning in the "looney gas" laboratory of the plant, physicians today still profess themselves baffled as to the cause of the mysterious affliction.

Dr. Randall Henderson, professor of Applied physiology at Yale university, said that the cause of the poisoning was tetraethyl lead, used in the commercial manufacture of a fluid designed to eliminate a "knocking" in automobile engines. He charged that its sale on a commercial basis in many states is a public menace.

The gas plant was ordered closed yesterday and the forty employees were given physical examinations. It is reported that a number of them have been sent to a hospital here.

The physicians in the hospital admit they know of no antidote for the poison, whose symptoms, they say, are new to them.

William McSweeney, 27, of Elizabeth, N. J., was in such a critical condition last night that physicians were expecting his death momentarily. Like some of the other victims, he became violent and had to be placed in a straight-jacket.

Representatives of the Standard Oil company said that tests had disclosed that there is no danger in the use of ethyl gas.

JOHN W. DAVIS AGAIN ASSERTS HIS POSITION

Declares There Can Be No Compromise With Reaction.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Declaring there "can be no compromise with reaction" and reasserting his position as leader of the more important issues before the people, John Davis, Democratic candidate for president, issued the following series of statements for publication "between now and November 4th."

"Mr. Davis' attitude regarding a number of policies he will seek to put into effect, if elected president, is set forth as follows:

"The American people are entitled to know where the supreme material problem is that of the equitable distribution of wealth. The Democratic party stands for the position that law and government policy should encourage the distribution of wealth with all proper regard for the interest of the few or to promote the welfare of all."

"The American government is made to embody the idea of every man for himself. This government assumes the moral leadership of mankind."

"Such an issue as this transcends every question of today. We face a world wherein the supreme material problem is that of the equitable distribution of wealth. The Democratic party stands for the position that law and government policy should encourage the distribution of wealth with all proper regard for the interest of the few or to promote the welfare of all."

TWO MEN SET OUT ALONE ON 1,800 MILE SEA TRIP

By H. W. JONES.
(Copyright 1924, By The Bee.)
HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 28.—Two men in a boat—a little ketch only 30 feet on the waterline—are heading down the coast today for St. Lucia in the British West Indies 1,800 miles away.

No hardened professional mariners these, used to sleep rough, autumn storms of the Great Atlantic—but amateur yachtsmen in search of "color," one for his writings, and the other for his palpitings. Yet they are confident that their staunch little craft will get safely through, blow high, blow low.

The Carmita, of New York, is the boat and Charles Perrochet, of Heuchelut, Switzerland, more recently of New York, and Louis Kaus, who boasts Gotham as his home, are the men. Perrochet is the painter and Kaus the writer. They arrived in Halifax a month ago, having followed the coast most of the way, but on the jaunt just began, they sail the open sea, on a direct line, as nearly as possible, to their destination.

"We are not making this trip in any spirit of foolhardiness," they said before departing. "We know how to navigate and our boat is sturdy."

"Of course," said the Swiss, with a merry twinkle in his eye. "I know that we won't have as pleasant a passage as the people who are going south on that liner there (the Royal Mail Steam Packet Chaudiere) was then leaving the harbor for Bermuda," but I think we'll get there just the same. We plan to take three hour watches, which will give us two night watches a piece and unless we meet very stormy weather, we don't anticipate much trouble and hope to have sufficient sleep and food."

Kaus opines that, barring a series of headwinds or other delays, the Carmita should arrive at St. Lucia within three weeks. The prevailing winds now are north and northwest and the two plan to keep heading south and east for the first thousand miles which they expect to be the hardest. Their course, they say, will take them well clear of Bermuda to avoid the doldrums in those waters—the Carmita has no auxiliary and will depend on sail alone on the venturesome voyage. They admit that St. Lucia is only their tentative objective and that they may put into one or more ports en route.

The Carmita has plenty of beam and free board, considering her overall length of only 30 feet and spreads about 900 square feet of canvas. Besides the regular fore and aft sails, she carries a square sail for running in light and moderate weather. Skipper of many a small craft in the open sea have found these square sails very helpful both for speed and steadiness. For heavy weather, they have a stout try-sail, and, if the need should arise, a perfectly good sea anchor with which to ride out a gale.

The ketch was planned by Linton Hope, famous English designer and built by Lawley, of Boston.

The two men were undismayed by the fact that the little boat in which William Nutting and several others adroitly amateurs set out to follow the "Viking trail" from Norway to America is now more than a month overdue. In the first place they believe that the men who are attempting to emulate the Lief Erickson of old will turn up safe and sound, and in the second place they point out that their trip to the south is not likely to be attended by so many severe storms as the Nutting and the other bold spirits of the Viking trip are bound to encounter off the shores of Greenland.

The problem of feeding 12 sons and six daughters has led Boon to buy a truck and hire a driver to make the rounds of the grocery stores and butcher shops each day and return with food for his hungry family.

Send Troops to Protect Residents

(By The Associated Press.)
TOKIO, Oct. 28.—The Japanese cabinet, meeting today, decided to send two additional companies of troops with a machine gun in corps from Manchuria to Tientsin, China, for the protection of Japanese residents whose safety may be threatened by an impending clash between forces of Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian general" and Wu Pei-Fu, deposed military head of the central Chinese government.

In that attitude of mind the American government must approach the solution of every problem. There can be no compromise with reaction. There was a time in the great war when this country passed through a period of spiritual exaltation such as it had never known before. Every one was glad, yet eager to sacrifice for the sake of whatever things were true. The query of every citizen of 'what can I do for my neighbors and my friends?' What can I do for my country? That was an expression of a great faith, a faith in America. There is nothing in the world worth so much to us as that.

He will make two addresses here today.

DIES A HERO

Ensign Henry Clay Draxler of the scout cruiser Trenton gave his life for his men. When the explosion occurred, he had a chance to save himself. But he thought only of his boys. Three times he dashed back into the fire and dragged some seaman out of the blazing furnace. He was going back after the fourth when he collapsed.

Members of the family and physicians said his death was not hastened by the trial and conviction of his son, now serving a life sentence in Joliet penitentiary.

Whether the son would attend the funeral was considered doubtful, for, although the prison authorities generally permit prisoners to attend funerals of their relatives, belief that the crowd of curious would gather, made it likely no application would be made for a permit. Mr. Loeb was 68 and was born in Rockford, Ills. His widow, four sons and three daughters, one of them, Jacob Loeb, former president of the Chicago Board of Education, survive.

SCOTTISH RITE REUNION

Members of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry in this city will be interested in the announcement that the dates for the annual autumn reunion have been fixed for November 17th to 20th, inclusive. The reunion will be held in the Scottish Rite temple in Richmond and will be attended by many men in this branch of Masonry, which has grown wonderfully in interest and numbers in recent years. Libertas Lodge of Perfection will meet on October 27th to act on some 25 petitions of Master Masons who seek advancement from the fourth to the fourteenth degrees, inclusive. Masonry in Danville is enlivening as the winter approaches with prospects bright for unusual activity, both in the York Rite and Scottish Rite branches of the order. On Friday night both Roman Eagle and Ramah lodges had work in the Master Mason degrees. As the date of the Scottish Rite reunion in Richmond nears, it is likely that many will seek to secure that degree in order to be eligible to advance in the Scottish Rite branch, or else to take the chapter or commandery degrees instead. Local Masons may advance through the fourth degree through the lodge of Perfection in this city, which last week advanced eleven candidates from the 4 to 14th and rendered them eligible to continue on the 32nd degree in Richmond or some other larger city.

BUYING PURE-BRED
SOWS NEEDS CARE

Four points should be remembered in considering the purchase of a pure-bred sow. They are: the breeder, the hog, its pedigree and the price. Much depends on the honesty and reliability of the breeder, especially when sows are purchased by mail or without first seeing them," says R. T. Smith, professor of animal husbandry at the State College of Washington. "A breeder should insist that the sow proves unsatisfactory it may be returned within a reasonable time, at the seller's expense. "In selecting breeding stock," the cont. race, "avoid animals with weak backs and feet, shallow bodies, coarse open shoulders and thick ears. A good breeding hog has a strong smoothly arched back, strong straight legs, a body which is uniform in width and with all parts blending smoothly with each other. "A six-months-old pig should weigh close to 165 pounds, adding 30 pounds more for each additional month up to two and a half years. "Every purchaser of breeding stock is entitled to a certificate of registry which should be signed and sealed by the secretary of the record association."

STATE POLITICAL REVIEWS

NORTH CAROLINA—The Republican party has entered a full state ticket, has a candidate for the United States Senate and is competing in eight of the ten congressional districts of the State. Only the third and fourth districts are the Democrats unopposed.

TENNESSEE—There is in this State a contest between Republicans and Democrats for Governor and the United States Senate, as well as railroad commissioner, and the congressional races. There is no Democratic candidate for Congress in the first district, where the race is between a Republican and an unopposed Republican. Democrats are unopposed in the fourth, sixth and seventh districts.

ARKANSAS—Five of Arkansas' seven congressional districts will have contests. The Republicans have named candidates in the second, third, fourth, fifth and seventh districts. The State election in Arkansas is held in October.

FLORIDA—There is a full State ticket and candidates for Congress in all Florida districts. The Republicans in this State have a chance to vote for a full State ticket and five candidates for Congress. Contests for Congress will be waged in the first, third, fifth, tenth and seventh districts.

MISSISSIPPI—Republican electors have been placed on the Mississippi ticket, but the attorney general's office has ruled that candidates for Congress on the Republican ticket cannot be included, as they were nominated in convention and not at a primary.

LOUISIANA—The situation in Louisiana differs from other states in the South in that, while candidates for Congress are in the field, names for La Follette-Wheeler electors have been refused places on the ticket. The secretary of State has taken the position that petitioners for such must be voters who had declared themselves independent of the Democratic and Republican parties.

VIRGINIA—The State of Virginia has a Republican candidate for the United States Senate, and Democratic candidates have opposition in the second, sixth, seventh and ninth congressional districts.

SOUTH CAROLINA—In South Carolina the Republicans made no nominations for State officers or representatives in Congress, because Democratic nominations are usually equivalent to election. Republican voters, however, will have an opportunity to cast their ballots for presidential electors.

GEORGIA—In this State three presidential tickets are in the November contest, but no opposition to the Democratic candidates for State offices has developed.

TEXAS—A woman nominated for governor on the Democratic ticket has the first time a major party has nominated a woman for governor in the United States; an active Republican campaign, and a bitter feeling over the Ku Klux Klan issue have made a real campaign for the November election. This fall in Texas, where the midsummer Democratic primaries are customarily equivalent to election.

Republicans had opponents of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Democratic candidate for governor, alike have joined issue against what they term "Fergusonism," making a stronger attack than usual against the traditional success of the Democrats.

James E. Ferguson, former governor, husband of the Democratic nominee, was impeached in 1917 on charges, among others, of misapplication of the State funds. A court injunction kept his name off the ticket in the primary as a candidate for governor and his wife's name was substituted. In the primary many who were second, but no one had a majority, and the two high candidates entered a second primary in which she won.

The Republicans and Ferguson's

opponents in the Democratic ranks charge that if his wife is elected he will be governor by subterfuge, that the plan of his wife to name on the ballot was really a trick to make him governor in the face of a legislative enactment which declared him forever barred from holding office in this State. This issue of Fergusonism has been clearly raised by the Republican nominee.

The Ku Klux Klan was the sole issue in the run-off primary, in which Mrs. Ferguson won. The Klan candidate was defeated, and while the platforms of both parties denounced the Klan by name and both candidates were opposed to the organization, nevertheless the Klan is still an issue, because many members of the order announced they would not support Mrs. Ferguson but would vote with the Republicans on the governorship. The Republicans are expected this year to poll the largest Republican vote in the history of this rock-riddled Democratic State.

Novelist William Faulkner's nomination had nothing to do with woman suffrage or the woman movement. As for national issues, this fall Texas is a nation unto itself in which the issues of the national campaign have been little mentioned. The Republican nominee for governor, Dr. George C. Butte, is an educator of high standing, who resigned the deanship of the law school at the University of Texas to make the race.

The State has two Democratic United States senators, 17 Democratic congressmen and one Republican congressman. The only congressional fight is in the fourteenth district, where Congressman Harry Wuzsch, Republican, is up for re-election.

The La Follette people have no ticket in the field, except for presidential electors.

KENTUCKY—Although Kentucky has no State election to settle on the November ballot, a State issue, a proposal for $75,000,000 good road and school bonds, overshadowed interest in the presidential, senatorial and congressional races.

The bond issue developed into one of the warmest non-political fights in Kentucky for years. Governor W. J. Fields, Democrat, has been the outstanding proponent of the bond issue, while the opposition has had several prominent men of both major political parties on the stump against the issue.

Six parties were on the presidential ballot: Democratic, Republican, Independent (La Follette-Wheeler), Socialist-Labor, Commonwealth and American.

Ten of the eleven incumbents seek re-election to the lower house of Congress. Joe W. Morris, who was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the death of J. Campbell Cantrill, did not enter the race for primary.

The congressional race is that of John W. Langley, Republican, who, although under conviction in federal court for conspiracy to illegally remove whiskey from a government warehouse, seeks re-election. He has based his campaign on the terms a plea for "vindication" at the hands of his constituents.

OKLAHOMA—Party affiliations have been partly forgotten in the United States senatorial race in Oklahoma between J. C. Walton, former governor, the Democratic nominee, and W. B. Pine, Okmulgee oil millionaire, Republican.

Pine, who received the support of the Ku Klux Klan in the primary, has declared he is not in sympathy with alleged practices of the Klan, and that the Klan is not an issue in the election. Walton has continued the fight on the Klan which he inaugurated during the primary contest. While Pine has devoted most of his addresses to national issues, stressing the need for conservative action, he has occasionally attacked Walton's record as governor. Walton has given virtually all of his addresses to attacks on the Klan.

Within the State Democratic ranks a rift has developed over support of Walton. Mrs. O. H. Cafky, former State vice-chairman, leading a revolt against the former governor, Campbell Russell, a Democrat, former corporation commission chairman, and bitter foe of Walton, entered the senatorial race as an independent. Throughout the State anti-Walton clubs have been organized. They have not concentrated on any other candidate, although several Democratic leaders, political opponents of Walton, have declared for Pine. On the other hand, some Republicans who opposed the Klan deserted the Pine banner for Walton.

Finger-Tip Test

When a "medium" produces psychic "manifestations" for the benefit of one's sister, he can often resort to trickery that would be impossible with a large group. The "finger-tip test" is a striking example.

The medium holds the forefinger of each hand a few inches from the eyes of the "sitter," and tells him to close his eyes.

Immediately the "sitter" feels the touch of a finger on each eyelid, which proves that both the medium's hands are occupied. Nevertheless, something touches the "sitter's" head, a bell rings, and other manifestations take place, until the medium finally removes his hands.

The sitters close his eyes. Then the medium extended TWO fingers of each hand, and set one on each of the sitters' eyes. This left the other hand free to produce the manifestations.

FAIR ASSN. TO MEET ON

Somehow a wrong impression appears to have gotten abroad that the Danville Fair association were to meet last night, and not a few persons were inquiring where the meeting was to be. There was no meeting last night and noon called for that date.

The fair association meeting has been called through advertisement in this newspaper to be held on the third Monday evening in November; that is to say on the evening of November 18th. That will be two weeks after the election, lacking one day.

20,000 Failed Last Year because they guessed

20,000 business concerns failed last year because they did not know the facts about their own business.

Think of it! 20,000 business men failed because they tried to run their business without knowing exactly where they stood each day.

And many thousands more failed to get the profits they earned because they did not know all about their purchases, expenses and sales, and because they did not have the facts to stop and prevent leaks and losses.

The Burroughs Simplified Accounting Plan gives the merchant each day the information he must have to make his business most profitable. It takes much less time than old-fashioned pen-and-ink methods. It gives more facts each day than pen-and-ink records provide each month. Yet it is so simple that many business men keep their own records.

Investigate its possibilities for your business. Phone the Burroughs office and a representative will tell you how it has helped others in your own line of business, and show you how it will help you to make more money. "Pass It On Club" Has a Birthday

Five years ago Sunday, witnessed the birthday, in Danville of one of the most unique movements in the history of Christianity. The service that has come to the attention of the public namely, the "Pass-It-On Club" composed of travelling men. Its purpose is what its name implies—to pass on the good news of Christian brotherhood, and the necessity for the service of worship in the churches as a bond of fellowship with Christ among men who call themselves Christians. In the beginning, Miss Sara Harrison, the originator of the work in this city, started with the idea of bringing a group of the road, who find themselves alone in the city for the week-end, by calling at the hotels shortly before church time on Sunday evenings and inviting them to go to church with her and her friends. The movement was a success from the beginning and grew rapidly in numbers as those who joined the group once, not only came again, but passed on the invitation to others, until in five years the enrollment now numbers three thousand men and eighty-five women, representing every State in the union and many foreign countries.

Spreads to Other Cities
The movement has spread to other cities and two weeks ago a similar club was started in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Richmond.

The annual meeting and celebration of the fifth anniversary of the club was celebrated Sunday, at 7:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church on Main street, with about sixty members present, some coming from distant cities for the sole purpose of being present on this occasion. The participants were lined up at the Burton and the Leeland hotels at 7 o'clock and went to the church in automobiles every man from the lobbies and parlors joining the party, except one.

A special service, led by Rev. James M. Shelburne, pastor of the church, began with an organ voluntary and anthem by the organist, Mrs. Julia B. Thomasson, who also played accompaniments to hymns and solos.

A vocal solo, "Pass-It-On," was sung with great feeling, and with gratification to those present, by Mr. Kennedy, a visitor.

Dr. H. J. Langston made an address giving the history and meaning of the club.

The hymn of the club "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," was sung by the men, all standing. Sixty male voices, pouring out their hearts in song, stirred to response every heart in the large congregation which filled the church.

Expresses Gratitude

Mr. W. I. Jones of Luray, in a talk that carried a message of gratitude to those who have been active in assisting in the Sunday night hospitalities, expressed his feelings in being a member.

J. Carson Watson, of Mt. Vernon church, made a short address on "The Club and the Churches of Our City."

W. I. Jones, of Luray, responded with "The Club and the Road Men." After the services at the church, the entire party, including Dr. Shelburne, Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. Ira T. Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Moss, Miss Rivers Harrison, Miss Sarah Harrison, and others of the committee, repaired to the home of Miss Harrison, on Green street, where they enjoyed a social hour.

A pleasant surprise awaited the party there, in finding two large birthday cakes, a devil's food cake, sent by Mrs. L. B. Conway, and an angel's food cake, with five candles, sent by Mrs. Richard Moss. These were cut and served with exchange of many witticisms among the company.

There was more music, and finally the club prayer in unison, as follows:

"Now, I get me up to work,
I pray the Lord I may not shirk,
If I should die before the night,
I pray the Lord my work's done right."

Among the number in attendance were three salesmen of Reidsville, who having read a notice of the meeting in the Baltimore Sun, accepted the invitation for the evening.

Relieves Butler Of His Fears

(Universal Service.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee, issued a statement today claiming Davis and Bryan will be victorious in the electoral college.

The claim is based on an "analysis" of reports from all doubtful states from state and county chairman and the congressional and other elections in 1922," the statement said.

Shaver said his prediction and convincing logic should "relieve Chairman Butler, of the Republican national committee, Secretary Weeks and other Republicans" from their professed anxiety that the election may be thrown into the House."

The reports from State and County Chairman Shaver declared that in nearly all states La Follette will draw more heavily from Republican than from Democrats, the estimates going in some counties as high as five to one or even ten to one. He added:

"On an average I believe it is safe to estimate that the third party candidate will draw more than two Republican votes to one Democratic. This is especially true of the States of the middle west and is generally true of all states with two or three possible exceptions."

Shaver asserted that the states carried by the Democratic party in the congressional elections in 1922 alone would be sufficient to insure the election of Davis, as their electoral votes total 277.

"If we add to these," he went on, "the states carried by Democratic candidates for governor or United States Senator, or both they total 321 or 359 electors in the electoral college, while only 266 are needed."

Since those elections, Shaver declared, conditions have not grown less favorable for the Democratic party but on the contrary exposure of oil and other scandals, the widespread business depression and distress of the farmers, have certainly weakened the Republican party. Then taking into account the progressive ticket, which he claims is drawing more votes from the Republicans than from the Democrats, Shaver added "the reason for our faith in Democratic victory is at once apparent."

"The Republicans through their partnership with special interests," he said, "control most of the money and the press. I need, they have built up a 'propaganda machine'."

This was started by Mark Hanna, who saw the value of the press and inaugurated a movement to have as many newspapers and periodicals as possible owned and controlled by the special interests."

PICK OUT YOUR DEER, CHEAP!

Threats of starvation to an ever-growing herd of deer in the Kaibab National Forest in northern Arizona have resulted in an offer to give away some of the deer to any applicant for them.

All it will cost the applicant will be crating and shipping, a sum estimated at an average of about $35. Young mule deer only will be shipped, and to sections east of the Sierra Nevada and the Cascade Mountains.

Thousands of the 30,000 herd will be given away in this manner. Applications should be sent to the Forest Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington.

Lowden Suggested For the Cabinet

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The attention of President Coolidge was turned to the vacancy in his cabinet caused by the death of Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture by receipt of several messages asking consideration of various persons for the office. It was made plain at the White House, however, that he would give little consideration to the new appointment, at least until after Wednesday, when burial services are to be held for Mr. Wallace at Des Moines, Ia.

While an early selection is expected to be made by the president in view of his proposal to get underway in the near future an investigation of agricultural conditions, it is not considered likely the choice will be made before election day.

The name of Frank G. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, was first suggested to Mr. Coolidge today.

HENKEL ENTERTAINS
'PASS IT ON CLUB'

Herbert M. Henkel, manager of Hotel Burton, will host a banquet at the hotel last Saturday evening, in honor of all members of the "Pass-It-On Club," who were in the city, and the resident committees from the various city churches, who have assisted Miss Sarah Harrison, founder of the club.

The private dining room of the hotel was handsomely decorated and a menu in keeping with the best service of the establishment was served. The courses were interspersed by toasts to the salesmen, to Miss Harrison, to the host, who has been always one of their loyal friends and to the committees.

The place cards were original, each selected to suggest the occupation of the individual, each of whom was required to find their place at table without other menus of designation.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, of New York, who are most enthusiastic members of the club, were present, the former singing two solos in his fine baritone.

The choruses were: "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Swanee River," "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginia," "Hail to the Chief," "The Star-Spangled Banner," and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

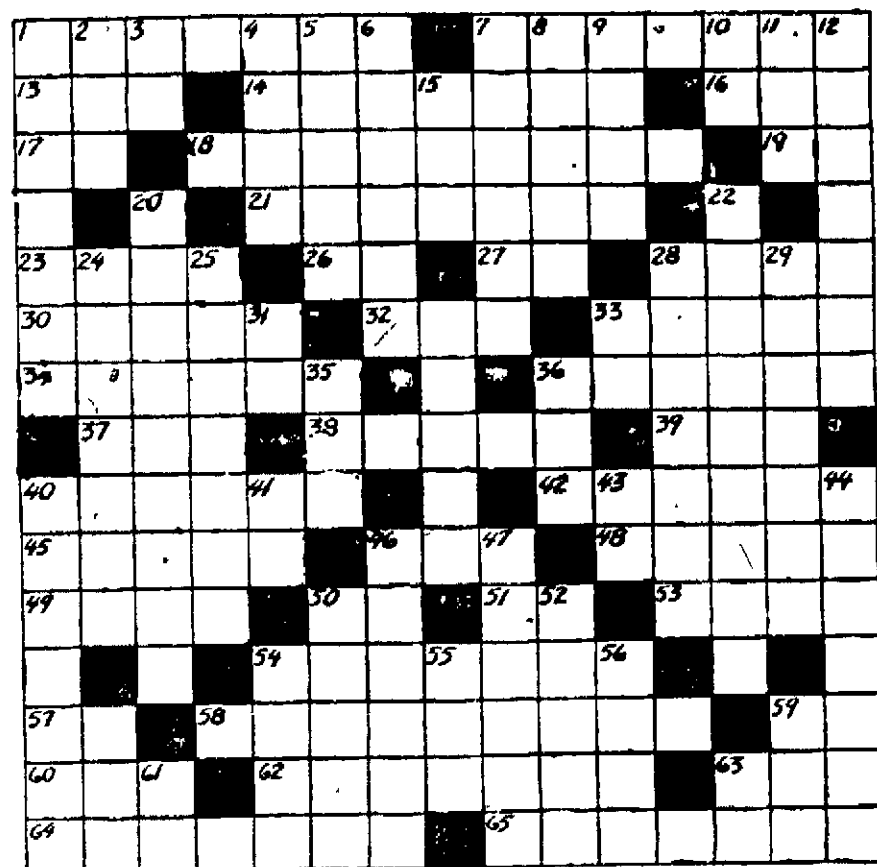

Covers were laid for forty, and each one present was presented, by Mr. Henkel, with a friend copy of the poem, "Pass-It-On," as he spoke a few words of welcome to his guests.

REV. DR. FOSDICK SAYS

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick announced today when his resignation as associate minister of the First Presbyterian church was accepted he would accede to the congregation's invitation to occupy the pulpit as a casual preacher each Sunday morning until late next March, when the church year expires.

His announcement was contained in a letter in reply to the congregation's decision to accept his resignation but to invite him to "make it your custom when not otherwise engaged to preach in our pulpit on Sunday morning."

PITTSBURGH AND CHICAGO NATIONAL LEAGUE CLUBS SWING BIG PLAYER DEAL

Maranville, Cooper and Grimm, Swapped by Pirates to Cubs For Aldridge, Grantham and Neihaus—McKenzie to Re-Arrange His Line-Up Next Year.

(By The Associated Press.)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—With startling suddenness, the Pittsburgh and Chicago National league of baseball clubs swung the most pretentious player deal engineered in recent years when Walter (Rabbit) Maranville, shortstop and second baseman, Wilbur Cooper star left hand pitcher and Charlie Grimm, first baseman, were transferred to the Cubs for Victor Aldridge, pitcher, George Grantham infielder, and Albert Neihaus recruit first baseman, recently purchased from Chattanooga. There was no cash consideration.
Grimm, Cooper and Maranville compose a trio that is famous in annals of Pittsburgh baseball. Maranville was obtained from Boston in 1920 in a trade that sent Barbare, Southworth and Nicholson to the Braves. Grimm was purchased the same year from Birmingham of the Southern association. Cooper came to Pittsburgh in 1912 from Columbus of the American association. He has the reputation of being one of the best left handers in the league and was one of the few hurlers in the National league to win 20 games last season. Manager McKechnie declared that it was because of the dissatisfying showing of power made by the team last season that he recommended the acquisition of new and younger blood. While the Pirates were sorry to lose Maranville, McKechnie declared it took the "rabbit" to swing the deal.

McKechnie will rearrange his line up next year. Moore, acquired from Atlanta in 1922 will play on second base, the brilliant showing of the youthful star in the latter half of the season stamping him as deserving of a place in the regular lineup. Grantham will be used in the outfield.

REGRET LOSING GRANTHAM
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The trade which brought Walter Maranville, infield star; Wilbur Cooper, left handed pitcher, and Charlie Grimm, first baseman, to the Chicago Nationals, in exchange for Grantham, second baseman; Victor Aldridge, pitcher, and Albert Neihaus, a recruit first baseman, was received here with general approval from the fans.
There was some regret over the loss of Grantham, who had hit well since he came here in 1923 from Omaha of the Western league. He had displayed erratic ability in handling slow balls, however. A year ago Grantham's errors lost the city series. Cooper will fill a long felt want of the Cubs for a competent left handed hurler. Aldridge was one of the best on the staff, but it was top heavy with right-handers.

Boxing Ass'n. Elects New Officers Today

(By The Associated Press.)
CINCINNATI, Oct. 28.—Election of officers was the principal business before the National Boxing Association in annual meeting here today. The resignation of Richard T. Burke, president, becomes effective automatically, owing to the expiration of his term as boxing commissioner.
Candidates for the office include Latrobe Cogswell, Baltimore, and E. A. McCauley, Lansing, Mich. William R. Shaw, national secretary and candidate for re-election, had little opposition.
The association is considering the creation of an association membership. This would consist of former members of State associations who have rendered equal service for the maternal body, and also include newspapermen who make a specialty of reporting boxing events.
Among other questions up for discussion today was the proposal to make a permanent record in each State of the performance of each boxer, a suggestion that referees be licensed by the individual State bodies, and provision of means penalizing boxers or managers who send out false news reports regarding the performance of boxers.

Atlantic and Detroit are the most persistent bidders for the next annual meeting.

Four Undeclared Teams Scheduled

(By The Associated Press.)

ENGAGEMENT OF DEMPSEY AND ACTRESS OFF

Various Obstacles On Both Sides Cause Pair to Become Estranged

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The off again, on again engagements of Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, and movie actress, Estelle Taylor, dark-eyed actress of the screen is off for good.
Estelle admitted the permanent estrangement tonight, and designated the cause as "nerves." The actress friends all agree that Jack and his fiancée got on each other's nerves. That's the blunt way they have of putting it.

On their return from Hollywood recently the happy lovers announced their engagement and then promptly denied it. And in other ways too, they indicated they were having trouble in making up their minds.
But now it is definitely over—a thing of the past.
Another temporary inconvenience, according to Estelle's friends, was her husband, Kenneth Malcolm Peacock, Philadelphia clerk. And then, too, there was Jack's reported engagement to Ann Pennington, which didn't help to smooth matters over any.
And Estelle, it was said, had a habit of enjoying the company of Lawford Davidson, handsome English movie actor. The thing is definite—Jack and Estelle are no longer engaged.

FREAK STUNTS FEATURE RECENT WORLD SERIES

(By NEA Service.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—No world series ever produced half the unusual situations that cropped out in the 1924 event. For instance, Walter Johnson struck out 12 men, yet was beaten 4 to 3 in 12 innings.
Catcher Tate, second string catcher to Muddy Ruel of Washington, was sent to the bat three times as a pinch hitter and drew a walk on each occasion.
Pitcher Marberry of Washington, worked in four of the seven games, three of them on successive days. He saved the second game by striking out Jackson for the final out of the contest on a bunt pitched ball.
Pitcher Jannard of the New York Giants, sent in as relief pitcher, was allowed to pitch only five balls before being derelicted. He walked the first man to face him on four straight, then one ball to the next batter and then got the gate.
In a pinch in the final game, Frankie Frisch struck out Johnson turning the trick. It was his first strikeout in four world series.
Lindstrom, third baseman for the Giants, the youngest player in the series, made four hits in one game off Walter Johnson, the oldest athlete.
Goose Goslin, by making three home runs, tied the record that was held by Babe Ruth made in 1923.
Washington came from behind to win every one of the four games necessary to decide the baseball championship.

With runners on, Walter Johnson in the final game of the series, twice passed Jackson to take a chance on Kelly, striking out the star first sacker of the Giants each time.
In one game Frankie Frisch robbed Goslin of three hits by making seemingly impossible plays on two short fly balls and one grounder.
In only one game did the Giants go through with the pitcher who started. More pitchers were used on both sides than in any other world series clash.
In the final contest two badly bounding balls sent over the tying and winning runs for Washington.
Kelly of New York played three positions during the series, first base, center field and second base. He performed in sensational style at each spot.
In the final game a pinch hitter doubled, starting the rally that tied up the game. In the 12th inning of the same game, Ruel, after getting a life when Gowdy stumbled over his mask going after a foul fly, doubled and later scored the winning run.
Ruel of the Nationals, after going six games and seven innings of the seventh without a hit, made two hits in the last four innings of the series that practically decided the contest.
Yet perhaps the most extraordinary feature of all was that Nick Altrock was serious for the entire series.

CASTE SYSTEM GRADUALLY FORCED FROM FOOTBALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Caste system is gradually being forced from football by a democracy march behind the banner of the forward pass and lead by speed and brains.
The social status of the gridiron was built with layers of beef, tradition created Harvard, Yale and Princeton a staid old families of football and posterity accompanied through years when these monarchs of "old" football were the champions of the game.
A rule was introduced barring the use of the hands on offense; the distance to be gained was increased; permission to throw the ball was granted. The bourgeoisie saw the wisdom of out-running the passing over head rather than a futile crashing into the mountains of flesh and bone. They gradually became profitable and football was set free.
Today, with season only half over, neither Yale, Harvard or Princeton is among the big elevens of the east with a clean slate of victories. Yale is the only member of the big three among the teams tied but not defeated.

Lafayette, Pennsylvania and Syracuse form the triumvirate still beyond reproach of even a tie. Dartmouth, Lehigh and Rutgers have suffered a tie but stayed off defeat. There is no guarantee that any of the seven will remain unbeaten at the season's end.
Pennsylvania or Lafayette will drop as these two clash at Philadelphia Saturday in a game which will attract keen attention.
Lafayette, with victories over Pittsburg and Washington and Jefferson, will have a paper edge over Pennsylvania which has not yet received a real test.
At New Haven, Yale, tied by Dartmouth, will win over Georgia and Brown by narrow squeaks, will be opposed by Army, already beaten by Notre Dame; but Yale, of the gridiron aristocracy, and Army, a service eleven, hold special interest, and a colorful crowd is assured.

HAUGHTON HEAD COLUBIA COACH DIES SUDDENLY

Noted Figure in Sports World, Expires Following Attack of Indigestion

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Arrangements for the funeral of Percy D. Haughton, head football coach at Columbia and creator of the yard, who died suddenly yesterday from heart trouble induced by acute indigestion, will be made today.
Officials of Columbia will also decide today whether or not the contest scheduled with Cornell at Ithaca next Saturday, and games with later opponents, including Army, New York university and Syracuse, will be played. It is generally assumed that Dr. Paul Withington, line coach and medical adviser of the squad will charge if gridiron work continues.
Authorities at Cornell, communicated with last night by the athletic committee of Columbia, replied that they would be governed entirely by the wishes of Columbia in regards to Saturday's game. It is thought, that if the contest with Cornell is cancelled, the Columbia team will be disbanded for the season.
Haughton's death came dramatically, just after the impressive performance of his team against Williams last Saturday had returned him to the spotlight. He occupied the post since 1915 when his Harvard terms were models of gridiron efficiency. It came when he was apparently in vigorous health. He was stricken in the gymnasium while donning his football suit to direct the practice work of his squad.
Dr. Withington applied emergency remedies for the indigestion of which his chief complained but Haughton gradually grew worse. At St. Luke's hospital, to which he was rushed, he sank rapidly and died, hardly more than an hour after he was first attacked.
The present season was Haughton's second at Columbia to which he had come in 1923 to attempt the task of providing a winning football team. In his first season the improvement was only noticeable, but this year there was a marked advance which culminated Saturday in the defeat by Cornell.
Haughton had been a star baseball and football player at Harvard before taking up coaching at Cornell. After two years there he entered business, returning to Harvard in 1908.
In 1915 he left Harvard to accept the presidency of the Boston National league baseball club. Two years later he entered the military service as a major in the chemical corps. Since the war he has been associated with banking interests at his home in Boston. A connection which he still maintained, as he spent only the spring and fall at Columbia.
Haughton was 49 years of age, and is survived by his widow.

JOE WILLIAMS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Last year in reviewing the football season, the writer predicted that the weight would swing still further out toward the wings, centering on the tackles and ends. And never has a season verified a prediction more emphatically.

Here is Marquette, whose defeat of the Navy in the writer's prediction, with a pair of tackles, Lane and Lenz, weighing respectively 215 and 208 pounds. Here is a tackle, Hall, of Illinois, who weighs 213 pounds. Penn., which is playing some real football this year, started the season with the following possibilities for tackles—Kaufman, 219; Shearer, 215; McLean, 220; Sieracki, 200; Sliney, 205. Of course teams swing these big fellows around in the interference, and when you get a tackle and a punter, you get a very good thing, and it is advisable to have your own tackle and end big enough to stand his shock.

Heavy Interferences. The situation is also complicated by the fact that the team and the writer, who was on the writer's all-American team last year. There were a good many who were under the impression that this placing of Grange over-rated him. But all are now convinced of the correctness of the selection. In the game against Michigan, this young man ran up no less than five touchdowns—and he was not in the game all the time.

Grange weighs 170 pounds. He is fast, and has a remarkable ability to dodge, pick his openings and shut the door on the tacklers. It is said that his job in the summer in his home town is handling ice. His last year's record was that in just short of 300 minutes' play against opponents he gained 1260 yards and scored 12 touchdowns. He scored 3 touchdowns against Nebraska, 1 against Iowa, 2 against Butler, 3 against Northwestern, 1 against Chicago, 1 against Wisconsin and 1 against Ohio State.

Every team this year which has faced Illinois has had one great "moment" in all its coaching practice, and that was to get Harold Grange. But the records thus far demonstrate that the only way to accomplish this would be to hire an assassin and get him somewhere off the gridiron!

How To KEEP WELL

Herndon and Stuart say Abraham Lincoln was habitually constipated. His thick, sallow skin was the result of chronic constipation. His spells of gloom and his moodiness were merely results of constipation or biliousness. He got relief by taking blue mass or calomel, but that he could not take it as often as he should because it irritated his "innards" too much.

Kellogg agrees with the diagnosis, but he says he should have taken dextrin, a combination of milk sugar and acidophilus bacilli instead of mercury.

No sooner had these pleasing explanations of the Lincoln moods displaced others that were less pleasing and more sinister, when along comes the Rev. Barton, who kicked the fat into the fire. Dr. Barton has studied Lincoln more scientifically than has any other man or woman, living or dead. He is tackling the problem of explaining the Lincoln physique and the Lincoln mind in a thorough and scientific fashion.

Lincoln was never thrown with any other Lincoln except his father, with the exception of one visit to a first cousin. On the other hand, members of the Hanks family were near him in a considerable part of his life and some of them talked a good deal about him. Abraham Lincoln is often quoted as saying he inherited his mind from his mother. Dr. Barton's study included a study of the grandparents, aunts, uncles, and cousins as well as some more remote ancestors on the Lincoln side. His conclusion is that Abraham inherited from the Lincolns, and not from the Hanks.

He was an illustration of Mendelian inheritance. Incidentally, the name Lincoln was always a Lincoln name. With the exception of Thomas, and a few others, the Lincolns were long, tall, bony, with long arms and long legs. They always had some mechanical aptitude from the first old western gun to Abraham, who invented a way to get a boat over a dam.

The moodiness and periodic glooms were Lincoln characteristics. The relatives in Kentucky had it. In Hancock county, Illinois the descendants of Abraham uncle, Nordica, were a gloomy, peculiar lot. In that country they spoke of the "Lincoln Horrors" and the "Lincoln hypo." Abraham never saw any of these cousins except that he once spent a day with his cousin, "Mord" Lincoln in Hancock county, Illinois, as well as in Grayson county, Kentucky. Dr. Barton learned that the Lincolns "were men of moods," "uneven workers," "all odd," "none were crazy," "uneven equilibrium of intellectuality and emotions," "cantankerous but likable," "periods of boisterous merriment, alternating with periods of gloom." The conclusion was: "The abilities of all the Lincolns was of the same general kind as those of Abraham."

One of the most interesting parts of Dr. Barton's study relates to the attitude of the Lincolns toward women. Here again we find that Cousin "Mord" and other Lincolns had the general attitude toward women that caused so much discussion in the case of Abraham. John Hay, speaking of meeting a second cousin, Robert Lincoln, a son of "Cousin Abraham," or "Cousin James." He was long and bony and looked like President Lincoln. He had some of the quaint humor of the President. Robert, speaking of the Lincoln family, said: "They have about run out. They are not a very marrying set."

Dr. Barton has done much to prove that Abraham inherited his physical type, his mental type and intermittent gloom from the Lincolns. And if so, neither constipation nor a sluggish liver, nor the less pleasing theories that came earlier stand up.

Conscience Unsatisfactory. Anxious mother writes: My 3½ year old boy had the measles three weeks ago. Since then he has developed a cough, which is worse during the night. He is broken out on his left arm, leg and neck with some kind of rash. Have also noticed that he sweats during the night. Is it dangerous and what causes it?

REPLY. Keep him out of doors and feed him plain, simple food. He is not eating plain satisfactorily, but the probability is strong that he will right up without special care or special food.

DISQUALIFY ANNAPOLIS MEN FROM FOOTBALL

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 27.—The number of navy varsity griders disqualified from participation in athletics for one month because of unsatisfactory scholastic standing reached eight tonight, when it was learned that besides the four regulars whose ineligibility was announced earlier in the day, a quartet of first-team substitutes also have been disqualified.

The latter are Query, Hubert, Jones and Maloney, back field men, and Horner, a line man. The regulars are Lantz, guard; Flippin, half back; Shapley, quarter back, and Osburne, center; all star performers. With the exception of Nov. 22, the men's next opportunity to regain their places on the eleven, the suspensions have cast a cloud over the Middie's game of game—that with Army, to be played in Baltimore Nov. 23.

Meanwhile, Coach Folwell must develop a virtually new organization for the games with Penn State, Vermont and Bucknell. The first of which is but five days away. The chief concern of the sailors, however, is the Army-Navy tilt. The suspended players, it is said, may take part in workouts, if they wish, but whether they can do this and at the same time recoup their class room standing, is a question.

TENNIS PLAYERS CAN SEE MOVIES OF STROKES

(By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Officials of the United States lawn tennis association are preparing to release to tennis organizations throughout the country five reels of motion pictures which contain slow motion studies of the methods and strokes of international stars.

The collection contains single reels devoted exclusively to Miss Helen Wills and William T. Tilden, national champions, and William M. Johnston former national champion. The four reel portray Vincent Richards and R. Norris Williams and the fifth, a group including General Paterson, Norman Brooks and Pat O'Hara Wood of Australia, and Manuel Alonso of Spain.

QUANTICO MARINES GO DOWN TO DEFEAT

(By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The scouting fleet eleven made up of players from the eighteen naval service teams a long the Atlantic seaboard, defeated the Quantico Marines at the Yankee Stadium today, 7 to 6. A crowd of 8,000 including Secretary of the Navy, Curtis D. Wilbur, attended the game.

The Marines were handicapped because of an agreement made prior to the game, allowing only one officer to play at a time. This necessitated an almost complete change in the line's lineup. The Marines scored their touchdown in the opening period when Stock blocked a punt and fell on the ball behind the Navy's goal line. The navy team scored in the second period when tea poked up a fumble on his own two yard line and Ensign Rooney booted a drop kick for the extra point, which proved the winning margin.

HAS AN AMBITION TO MEET DEMPSEY

(By The Associated Press.) ROME, Oct. 27.—Erminio Spalla, the European heavyweight champion who yesterday knocked out Depaus, the Belgian champion in a bout in Naples, declared today his "supreme ambition" is to meet Jack Dempsey. "I have sent Dempsey a challenge through the European boxing federation," Spalla added, "and I am putting myself at his disposal for a bout for the world's championship. I am ready to fight him at any time in any country and under whatever conditions he chooses to impose. I intend to go to the United States next spring, but if Dempsey wishes to fight me before that time I will go across the ocean whenever he likes."

FOOTBALL QUESTIONS

If You Have Some Question to Ask About Football Write—
LAWRENCE PERRY,
Special Football Correspondent of The Bee, 814 World Building, New York

QUESTION—In the west they do not seem to be living up to the ruling concerning a punted ball striking one of the kicker's own team. The interpretation at the Rule Committee session as I read it, was that the man whom the ball struck was not counted as off side.

ANSWER—That was in the interpretation by the Rules Committee but in the west they do not accept this, they maintain that an offside man is an offside man under any circumstances. So in the west when a punted ball strikes a player of the kicker's team the ball goes to the opposing team. It might be suggested that such a division is regrettable. The interpretation at the Rule Committee session as I read it, was that the man whom the ball struck was not counted as off side.

QUESTION—When is the score of a forfeited game? A bets it is 1 to nothing. B bets it is 2 to nothing. ANSWER—For a forfeited game 1 to nothing. It used to be two but that made it the same as a safety, so the score was reduced to one.

WILLIAM AND MARY MAY PLAY HARVARD

(By The Associated Press.) CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 27.—William and Mary college has asked Harvard for an opportunity to play here on October 31 next year, the date on the Crimson list filed this year by Boston university. Harvard may accept the suggestion, it was said today.

ASSERT NEW YORK DOMINATES BOXING

(By The Associated Press.) CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 27.—Boxing officials of the entire country were represented in a meeting of the national boxing association here today in which some argument is anticipated as a result of alleged domination by the New York body. Middle western and southern states delegates have banded together. It is reported, in an effort to establish some ruling by which they will be able to secure leading attractions as well as New York where they claim officers of fabulous purses prove too alluring for boxers to compete in other states.

Among other questions to be discussed during the two days session is the proposal to make a permanent record in each state of the performance of each boxer, a suggestion that referees be licensed, the certificate to be given free by the individual state bodies.

CUBS AND PIRATES IN PLAYERS' TRADE

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The Chicago National League club today acquired Walter Maranville, second baseman, Charley Grimm, first baseman and Wilbur Cooper, left hand pitcher, all of the Pittsburgh Nationals, in exchange for Vic Aldridge, right hand pitcher, George Grantham, second baseman, and Albert Neuhaus, first baseman, the latter recently purchased by the Cubs from Chattanooga. No money was involved in the deal.

POLAND PAYS LAST HONORS TO NOVELIST

(By The Associated Press.) WARSAW, Oct. 27.—The body of Henry K. Sienkiewicz, Polish novelist today was placed in its final resting place after having been the object of national honors as it lay in State for 24 hours. Before the final ceremony, a throng estimated as a half million persons, attended a demonstration in front of the monument erected to his memory.

To win more friends

100 Lucky Strikes TAX FREE

We invite every smoker in this city to take advantage of this startling offer.

We've told you about Lucky Strike superiority.

Your friends have told you. Now know for yourself the value of the toasting process.

We make this proposition to win more friends:

The regular price of a tin of 100 Lucky Strikes is 75c

You pay the dealer only 45c

We pay the Government Tax of 30c

Act quickly, as the dealer's allotment at this price is limited.

Get one tin [only one to a person] for home or for office.

The regular price will be in effect when the dealer's supply on this offer is sold.

Cleanliness and Care in Manufacture

Every Lucky Strike factory is a model of sanitation. Read how Alfred W. McCann, the noted food expert, describes one of our factories: "White walls and ceilings, floors as clean as freshly chiseled marble, cutting machines and wrapping machines that take away from the human hand all detail and leave nothing to the human supervision but the watchfulness of trained eyes."

Smoke these 100 Lucky Strikes. Then you'll know how the 45-minute toasting process adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

LUCKY STRIKE

Facts About Taxes on Cigarettes

WE call particular attention to the statements made in the advertisement adjoining this editorial column.

This advertisement, the purpose of which is to win new friends for Lucky Strike cigarettes, incidentally emphasizes the matter of high taxes on cigarettes.

To those who are intimate with such matters there is, of course, no surprising statement made.

To the general public, though, we believe it will be surprising to learn that nearly half of what they pay for cigarettes goes to the government for taxes.

The internal revenue stamp on a package of twenty Lucky Strike cigarettes costs you six cents. On a tin of one hundred the revenue stamp costs you thirty cents.

So nearly fifty cents out of every dollar you spend for cigarettes is spent by you for taxes. This is certainly the heaviest tax on an article of daily and universal consumption.

The Tobacco Industry and Taxes

The aggregate tax paid by the tobacco business is with one exception, income taxes, the largest item of internal revenue the federal government receives. Last (fiscal) year it amounted to $309,014,450.84.

Of this enormous amount of money the cigarette industry paid $123,715,735.93, or nearly two-thirds of the total tax paid by the entire tobacco business.

The immediately important point of the foregoing is the following: We believe you will appreciate that when nearly fifty cents of every dollar paid by you for cigarettes goes to the government, you must receive in cigarettes a value in return for your money that is rarely given in any commodity.

That the public generally appreciates this great value is shown by the enormous increase in the consumption of cigarettes.

Our reasons for this tax free offer

We know this offer induces men to try Lucky Strike—it "Wins New Friends."

We know that a large percentage of those who get acquainted with Lucky Strike adopt them.

This isn't philanthropy nor propaganda—just good business, as you'll agree.

The offer is limited. We cannot afford to keep it up.

We make it sensationally generous so as to attract attention.

We are not giving money away for the offer accomplishes its purpose: Lucky Strike "Wins New Friends." Our volume increases.

Super-quality

It is only by immense volume that we can produce such an aristocratic cigarette as Lucky Strike at such a democratic price.

Its quality is supreme because it has that costly, extra process, toasting, which improves the flavor and adds to the taste of even the finest tobaccos that are used in Lucky Strike.

We urge you to participate in this offer—we want you to get acquainted with Lucky Strike.

We know a trial will make you a permanent customer of ours.

MIKE M'TIGUE SAYS HE WILL SUE COMMISSION

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Mike M'Tigue, world's light-heavyweight champion, announced today through his attorney that he would start suit against the New York state athletic commission, claiming $250,000 damages on the charge that he has been prevented from obtaining a license. M'Tigue's action followed a recommendation of the commission, made last week, that its license committee refuse him a license in the state for a year for failure to accept the challenge of Gene Tunney, American 175-pound champion, for a title match. This recommendation, however, has not been acted upon by the license committee.

3 PRISONERS LOCK JAILER UP; ESCAPE

(By The Associated Press.)
BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 27.—Three prisoners broke away from Chittenden county jail here after having overpowered the guard at the door, placed him in a cell and locked him up with his own keys. The three who escaped are Edward St. Aubin, of Montreal, held for violation of the immigration and Chinese exclusion act; Arthur Staley, of New York, held on a charge of forging money orders; and Charles Kelly, who is held for looting a Burlington home last Saturday of clothing valued at $1,000. Mrs. Helen Kelly, wife of the latter, who is held on the same charge as her husband, did not escape.

St. Aubin was recently allowed to marry Miss Emerilda Gagne, of Montreal, who was arrested when she came to visit him. Jail officials said she had smuggled a revolver and a sack saw into the place.

Dreams
each has its own MEANING

While you are preparing your mind to reap the benefits from what your dreams may tell you—maybe your fortune lies in the teacup.

In olden times the teacup was often resorted to in an effort to find out what lay in store for those around the table. Probably you will never let the tea leaf symbols guide your way, but take a look and see what is marked for you in the bottom of the cup.

After you have drunk your tea, and there is only a little remaining in the bottom, turn the cup three times in the direction of the hands of a clock.

Then turn the cup upside down and permit the moisture to drain away. You must look sharply to see what figure the tea leaves have formed for you. If the indications are bad, see if you can not find something that is good, something which will fit you more closely.

And the symbols are:

Circles: Money or presents may be expected. If lines join the circles, there will be a delay.

Hearts: If surrounded by dots there will be much happiness, with money abundant. Marriage is betokened if there is a ring near the heart.

Letter: There is going to be some news for you. It will be good news if the outline is clear, with money in it if small dots appear. Bad news will come if the outline is clouded.

Straight lines: Peace, happiness and a long life.

Triangle: You will receive a legacy.

Snakes: Caution will ward off misfortune.

Figures of persons: Unexpected visitors.

Wavy lines: Losses and vexations if long and wavy.

Straight line: A journey.

Flashes: Good news and a water journey.

Trees: Good omens if far apart.

Insects, reptiles, fish, etc., which come crawling into your dreams, are usually favorable signs.

There are a few exceptions, which indicate small troubles. The appearance of ants forecast achievement through industry, while the buzzing of a bee brings a message of profit and increase.

The snake, always dreaded, may be a favorable sign to the dreamer, for it may awaken him to the fact that he has shown ingratitude and should retrace his steps. Oysters and salmon predict feasting and plenty, with good luck and pleasant occupations.

Appearance of whales, tortoises, sharks, etc., bring a warning of dangers that lurk in secret enemies.

And you can follow the path of the lowly snail to an honorable position of responsibility.

Average price 20 rails $8.71, off 52; 20 industrials 101.75, off 31; 40 bonds 90.87, off .01.

GEN. HALDEMAN PROMINENT VETERAN, DEAD

Commander-in-Chief of Confederate Vets Victim of Heart Attack

(By The Associated Press.)
LOUISVILLE, Oct. 28.—There is another gap in the fast thinning ranks of fine warriors of the great day. General W. C. Halderman, commander in chief of the United Confederate veterans, is dead.

General Halderman was stricken with a heart attack at Churchill Downs yesterday and died within a half an hour. While his sudden death was a distinct shock to relatives, friends and comrades in arms the distinguished veteran's health recently had been such as to cause concern. Earlier in the month he was forced to cut short an address before a state meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy in Frankfort.

His last public appearance of importance was the occasion of the realization of what had been one of his fondest dreams. On July 7, last, he presided at the exercises at Fairview, Ky., when a huge shaft marking the birth place of Jefferson Davis, Confederate president, was dedicated. General Halderman was president of the Jefferson Davis home association and it was largely through his indomitable efforts that funds for building the monument were obtained. When the Davis shaft was dedicated the general was made head of the Jefferson Davis memorial association, an organization formed to care for the memorial.

In Memphis last May, General Halderman unanimously was re-elected commander in chief of the United Confederate veterans, an office for which he was first chosen in New Orleans in 1923. He had conferred upon him a lifetime commission as commander of the Veterans of the Orphans brigade in 1915, and 1910 to 1915 he served as commander of the Kentucky division, United Confederate veterans.

Since his retirement in 1918 as editor-in-chief of the Louisville Times the interests of his comrades in the war between the states had been virtually his sole concern.

A funeral service will be held Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at the First Presbyterian church of which the general was trustee. General Halderman will be buried in the uniform of commander of the Confederate veterans, in Cave Hill cemetery.

Born in Touchville, General Halderman ran away from school when he was 16 years old and joined the Orphans Brigade. He was a Chickamauga hero, and later joined the Confederate navy and served as midshipman. Later, however, he rejoined his old company in Orphans Brigade and served there until the close of the war.

He returned to Louisville after the war and entered newspaper work, his father and Henry Watterson having established The Courier-Journal and later The Times. He finished his education at the time the war was in school remained actively engaged in newspaper work until his retirement.

While his interest in politics never flagged, he may be said only to have violated Henry Watterson's rule that a newspaper man should not accept public office. He served as adjutant general of Kentucky in 1911 and 1912 and a member of the Kentucky Racing Commission from 1914 to 1919.

For the last thirty years, General Halderman had made his winter home at Naples-on-the-Gulf, Florida, and, according to news dispatch, his death is mourned as widely in Florida as in Kentucky. He was a citizen of that State.

Besides the widow and two daughters, General Halderman leaves a brother, Royce Halderman of Louisville.

MORNING SUGAR LETTER

(Thompson & McKinnon)
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—There are no signs of a break in the deadlock in the sugar market, refiners having again withdrawn from the raw market and holders of the remainder of the Cuban crop content to await a possible higher level later in the season. We continue to suggest disposing of the ne crop options on moderate rallies.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Estimating the probable earnings of the U. S. Steel Corporation has always been a popular diversion. Frequently these estimates are at hopeless variance with actual figures and as a rule, far too pessimistic. Today's report may be no exception. But whatever it may be, we know that improvement has now definitely set in. We have the recent statement of Judge Gary that since the beginning of October shipments have increased five thousand tons daily. Independents also are steadily increasing their output. The support of a newspaper reporter in what quarter of the year are probable in other lines as well. Demand for all metals from abroad has been steadily growing at advancing prices since the flotation of the German loan. Crude oil and crude rubber are not lagging. These are only a few of the signs of business improvement. The election will soon be over and business can pursue its upward course unhampered. Take advantage of all weak spots to add to your holdings.

MORNING GRAIN LETTER

(Courtesy Thomson and McKinnon.)
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—You will note that Liverpool shows more advance in wheat price than Chicago. It is very evident that world's demand is underneath the market and not speculation. Situation is very healthy, not to say strong.

Home For Baby Girl Is Sought; Four Weeks Old

A blue-eyed baby girl, dimpled and healthy-looking, is coming for home out on the North Side.

The mother, 21 years of age, is unable to give the four weeks infant the proper care. Deserted by her husband, and with no means of support other than what she may earn by her own hands, the mother is willing, bitter as it is, to give up all claims to the young little bit of humanity.

She can have a job in a Danville cotton mill. She must take the work if she would keep her other small child, Betsy, two and one-half years old. But Dorothy, the name she has given the four-weeks old baby, she must give up, if she would take employment.

The mother is comely and in good health.

When the attention of Adj. C. E. Duer of the Salvation Army was called to the mother's prayer, he enlisted the support of a newspaper reporter after failing to interest several families he called upon. Adj. Duer will give the address of the mother, or Mrs. Duer or himself will take any inquirers to the mother's home.
